Publication fact sheet

A reference for people writing about GOBO, the photography journal published from Athens for an international readership.

The journal

GOBO is an English-language publication for photographers, editors and readers interested in how images are made and used. Articles, guides, comparisons and interviews are freely accessible at gobopress.com.

Coverage

Global photography news, gear, imaging software, interviews, visual culture, practical guides and camera comparisons. The archive and RSS feed bring the coverage together.

Publisher & studio

Michael Morakis publishes GOBO through Symbols House of Brands G.P. The photography studio is Snapium (snapium.gr).

Using the name

Write GOBO in capitals. Use the supplied wordmark at its original proportions for coverage of the journal. Credit photographs and request separate permission for reuse.
